

GOALDEN HOUR

To whom it may concern,

I've had the distinct pleasure of managing and working alongside Drew at Goalden Hour when he interned with us for several months following his Epicodus graduation. Drew is a diligent worker and incredibly professional. He was responsive in his communications and thoughtful with his approach to work.

Drew is upbeat and a delight to be around. His mindset served him well, and Drew quickly rose to becoming one of our most productive frontend developers. He showed an eagerness to learn, and engineer solutions 'the right way' - often seeking out best practices from library documentation. Drew also exhibited the drive to go the extra mile to support the team. He took the initiative to write up an onboarding document to help new incoming colleagues assimilate to the team effectively and efficiently.

In a short time, Drew has demonstrated a keen eagerness to learn and an adaptability in his working style. We value his contributions on our team and know great things are ahead in his career. Any team would be incredibly lucky to welcome Drew onboard.

Sincerely,

Karthy Chandra
